Linz counts approx. 200,000 inhabitants and is also famous as the city on the Danube. The harmonious interaction of historic charm and pulsating modernity is not only reflected in the architecture, but is also characterised by the cultural possibilities. Trendy and cosy bars invite you to relax and have fun. Various green oases and recreation areas not forgetting the picturesque location at the Danube make Linz an attractive town to live and study. ## Ried im Innkreis

Ried, a town of contrasts between tradition and modernity. Originality and innovation is creating the town with 11,000 inhabitants in the heart of Upper Austrians region Innviertel an exciting place full of magic moments.

A beautiful old town house lines up to the next in the town centre and bustling squares and cozy restaurants are inviting guests to discover convivial residents. Art and culture is indeed very important for Ried. For around 200 years Ried was the home of wellknown sculpture dynasty of the Schwanthaler.

Superbly, Ried also offers economic interest: manufacturers with international reputation are the best proof, such as FACC, a manufacturer of aircraft parts, TEAM 7, manufacturing high quality solid wooden furniture or the engineering company Wintersteiger. But there are also trading companies reinforcing Ried's reputation as a place of shopping. Other highlights of this town are the „Rieder Messe“ and all those kickers of soccer club „SV Guntamatic Ried“.

As you see: Ried is big in small. Check it out.

Vöcklabruck is situated halfway between Salzburg and Linz, very close to the famous lakes of the Salzkammergut (11 km to the Attersee, 16 km to the Traunsee, 40 km to the Mondsee). That's why the town is also named „The gateway to the Salzkammergut“. But not only the countryside of Vöcklabruck invites you to discover adventures in the mountains and villages around – the city of Vöcklabruck with its 12.000 inhabitants offers you a lot of activities in the center too.

The historical town square, framed by the two town towers, is a meeting point for local people and tourists. There you can find markets, shops, museums, cafés, bars and restaurants.
